BARNETT TELLS WHY HE WAS REGISTRAR

JACKSON, Miss. - Gov. Ross Barnett said the State College Board acted on its own when it named him registrar at the University of Miss. during the recent desegregation crisis.

During the height of the crisis, the Board named Barnett registrar and the governor in that capacity refused to register Negro James Meredith as a student, although Meredith had won a federal court order directing officials to admit him.

"I didn't request them to make me registrar," Barnett told a news conference. "It was the Board's own action. I told them if they did name a registrar, I would rather see them appoint other people rather than me."

Barnett said he had suggested the names of the late Gene Wirth city editor of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger and a close personal friend of the governor; Dr. Ney Williams a Jackson anesthesiologist; and Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson.

"All of them told me they would like to have the job," Barnett said.

LATER REGISTERED

Meredith, a 29-year-old Kosciusko Negro, later was registered by regular registrar Robert Ellis after he was escorted onto the campus by a large force of federal marshals. His appearance triggered rioting on the campus which resulted in two deaths.

The governor said T. B. Birdsong, head of the state highway patrol, was making an investigation into the rioting deaths, but had not reported yet.

Barnett declined comment on a contempt of court conviction in the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of appeals at New Orleans.

Barnett said education was a matter for states to handle and that he sought to prevent violence.

The governor said he had not talked to former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker during Walker's visit to the state while the desegregation crisis was under way. Walker was arrested during the second day of rioting by federal authorities on four counts and was ordered to undergo psychiatric tests. The

HONORED WITH STORK SHOWER

Mrs. William Favre was honored with a stork shower Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Jessie Favre on Washington Road with Mesdames J. C. Favre, and Hugo Favre and Miss Myrtis Ann Favre as co-hostesses.

A color scheme of pink and white was used in the decoration. The table covered with a white cut-work cloth, was centered with a white and pink cake trimmed with a miniature stork and baby dolls in a bed of pale pink spun sugar roses.

A large crystal swan with an arrangement of pink blossoms and greenery trimmed the coffee table.

The honoree was presented a corsage of pink rose buds.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Curt Meyer of Baton Rouge and Mrs. Zoe Schwab of New Orleans.

970 STATE SCHOOLS IN LUNCH WEEK OBSERVANCE

The 970 schools in Mississippi that daily serve nutritious lunches to more than 280,000 elementary and high school pupils will be observing a week of special significance to them October 14-20, National School Lunch Week.

J. M. Tubb, state superintendent of education, said the observance is in keeping with a proclamation by President Kennedy of the first annual national commemoration of the school lunch role in keeping the nation healthy and strong.

Tubb said the activities will be aimed at showing how the school lunch program serves the Nation by safeguarding the health and well-being of the children who will be tomorrow's citizens, and at the same time helping to expand markets for farmers and the food industry.

"School Lunch Week" also gives us an opportunity to pay tribute to the local school officials, teachers and interested citizens whose interest, guidance and hard work made the program possible.

Inasmuch as nearly 80 per cent of the foods are purchased locally, school lunches contribute significantly to the State's economy. A total of $17,998,160.00 was spent in this State last year for food, equipment, and services for the State's school lunches.

Among speakers for the convention will be Martin T. Johnson, Mobile, Ala., chaplain, who will deliver the opening address of the convention, Lee Merriether, 100-year old Mississippi and native of Columbus, now a retired St. Louis, Mo., businessman. WOOD INDUSTRY IN MISSISSIPPI ONE OF BEST ATLANTA, Ga. — Purchases of wood products in Mississippi and the South totaled $48,776,000, according to H. J. Malsberger of Atlanta, general manager of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

Among the 80 counties in the state where pulpwood was produced, the three leading counties, and the value of deliveries shipped from each, were Clarke, $1,896,440; Greene, $1,260,840; and Jasper, $1,218,240.

These figures were based on the results of a 12-state survey conducted by the U. S. Forest Service Experiment Stations at Asheville, N. C., and New Orleans, La., in cooperation with SPCA.

Mississippi's share in the production of wood raw material for the pulp and paper industry, Mr. Malsberger said, was part of an all-time high pulpwood harvest for the South as a whole.

The region's total for 1961 was $48,776,000, a gain of three percent over the previous record of $47,020,000 for 1960.

The South's pulpwood harvest last year was not only sixty percent of the total for the nation, Mr. Malsberger stressed, but was also greater than that of any single foreign country and more than in any area of comparable size in the world.

He emphasized, too, that figures show that the South as a whole there is a continuing favorable ratio of forest growth over all removal. This includes removal of trees harvested for pulp use, as well as those resulting from fire, insects and disease.

"The demand for paper and other products from wood expands every year," he added, "and forest owners that have a continuing incentive to manage their woodlands properly to produce more and better trees."

KENNEDY BACKS CARE FOOD CRUSADE AS CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE

ATLANTA, President John F. Kennedy hopes Americans will aid CARE Food Crusade packages to the hungry overseas, as "a personal contribution to the world peace, out, nation seeks."

Through a fund drive now underway, CARE aims to deliver 7,500,000 of its $1 Food Crusade packages, containing mainly farm foods donated from U. S. Stocks. In a letter released today by Harold S. Miner, President of CARE, Mr. Kennedy states:

"Our Government's Food for Peace program gives American humanitarian agencies a key role in the humanitarian task of sharing our farm abundance with the hungry across the world. It is noteworthy that CARE, through its Food Crusade and related programs, is helping to feed 28,000,000 hungry people overseas."

"From reports of our Embassies, I know the trust and esteem the American people have gained in country after country because of the aid CARE provides in their name — not only food, in fact, but work and training schools, education and health supplies, medicines and even doctors to help the needy build a better life for themselves."

"Every CARE package is a personal contribution to the world peace our nation seeks. It expresses America's concern and friendship in a language all peoples understand. I earnestly hope our citizens will support the 1962-63 CARE Food Crusade."

Lynrose Williamson, Vicksburg, and Cecil Black, Indianola, and Superior Service Awards, USDA, by Extension Director W. M. Bost, State College, and District Agent L. H. Moseley of Stoneville.

Among the special guests will be C. I. Smith, State 4-H Club leader, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service; B. C. Simmons, associate director, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service, and Miss Earle Gaddis, state home demonstration agent, Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service.

As part of a system-wide project, United Gas has sponsored for 16 consecutive years the Mississippi 4-H Club Junior Leadership Program in cooperation with the Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Do you save the fat from deep frying and reuse it later? Most homemakers do. But they often wonder whether they should.

There is nothing wrong with reusing fats, according to the home economists at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station. The practical heating life of fat is between 10 and 20 hours. After that, certain chemical changes take place, but there is still no safety hazard.

It's a good idea to keep up the volume of the fat. The researchers suggest you add some fresh fat each time you use the stored fat. When the fat begins to foam or change color drastically, it's

PAINTING YOUR HOUSE

It's best to apply the same type of paint that's already on the house, the experts say. If, however, the paint hasn't been satisfactory, you can change. But wait at least four years before you do.

When you change color schemes, make the change from a white or light color to a darker color. Never apply a light paint over a dark colored paint.

Also, never add colors-in-oil to white mixed-pigment paints. Instead, buy the tinting base paint made by the same manufacturer for this purpose.

DRYER vs. CLOTHES LINE

Many homemakers still believe there's nothing like sunshine for drying white clothes. Maybe you are one — and continue to hang your sheets on the line — even though you may have a dryer sitting idle indoors.

It is true that automatic dryers tend to yellow white muslin. But so does too much sun.

Tests by textile specialists at the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station show that six hours in the sun produce nearly as much yellowing as a run in the automatic dryer.

If you want your white clothes to stay white, hang them indoors or put them outdoors in the shade.

FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEAT

IF you're planning to build a new home or remodel your present one, consider these important advantages of flameless electric heating:

- WORRY-FREE MAINTENANCE: Properly installed electric heating systems last the life of the home, require no regular servicing.
- CLEANLINESS: Reports from homeowners show that in homes with electric heating, dusting time can be cut an average of 60 per cent.
- EASE OF OPERATION: Temperatures automatically stay within one-and-one-half degrees of thermostat setting, respond quickly to changes.

There are many more reasons why modern electric heating systems are growing in popularity. Your electrical contractor, or nearest Mississippi Power Company will be happy to explain them to you.

THREE WAYS TO HEAT ELECTRICALLY

Baseboard units heat by high radiation and convection. All surfaces are warmed evenly, and control is by individual room thermostat.

Wall panel heaters have heating coils behind a decorative grill. Heat fans may be used with this thermostatically controlled unit.

Heating panels heat home in winter, cool it in summer. It's automatically reversible and maintains any desired year-round temperature.

As for fishing the past week and reports have come in that some fish have been caught most everywhere. That's true. Both fresh and salt water fish have been biting but large catches have been far between. Green trout have been caught on both live shrimp and surface and under-water baits. Speckles have been caught mostly on live bait. Some underwater baits have proven successful also.

Those going out to the marshes report small catches of speckles, snappers and red fish were caught last week in inland waters and out at the marshes. Big reds and mackerel were caught along the K. K. bridge. Up Jordan and Wolf Rivers some specks were caught but small catches were reported. Still a little too hot.

Charles W. Bough representative of Beland Beverage Co. of the Miss., Coast, Falstaff Beer, was calling on customers and mingling with friends in Bay St. Louis, Tuesday. Charles loves his fly fishing and promised to go with us. See you later.

Some green trout are being caught by trolling. The most effective bait being a treble hook, spinner and yellow skirt.

Of course it makes it harder to Par the course but the improvements are welcomed by the members. Keep up the good work Cal.

Sam Whitfield and Dick Shadwin were trying out the green trout up Pearl River Friday. Don't know how many they caught but Dick told us of the striped bass he caught at the mouth of Old River.

Live bait is proving effective in catching some large green trout in both Jordan and Pearl Rivers.

Sorry we reported last week that Bob Bienville caught a big green trout of which he was proud. It was his son Raymond who caught the fish and not Bob. A man who never makes a mistake never does anything.

Do you know that deep artesian wells furnish an abundant supply of the finest drinking water in the world in this section and that all fishing streams have a falling and rising tide which make our streams clear of pollution and our fish the sweetest tasting of all.

— TWENTY-FOUR HOUR SERVICE —

San Francisco—Super Shell with Platformate has just delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent. Platformate is Super Shell's mileage ingredient. Shell engineers test Super Shell for mileage in many different types of cars, in many different places. Here's how the test above was run. Exactly 250 cc (about half a pint) of a fuel blended without Platformate was fed into the test car's engine. The car was started, accelerated to 30 miles per hour, then held there until fuel ran out and the car rolled to a stop. Distance: 6186 feet (indicated by dotted line in background). Next, test was repeated, using Super Shell—the same fuel as before but with Platformate added. Precise same volume of fuel. Same car. Same speed. Same driver. Same conditions. Distance: 6454 feet. That's 4.33 percent farther than the car traveled with non-Platformate gasoline.

MILEAGE TEST

New documented tests prove that one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients packs extra mileage into every gallon

THE picture above was snapped a few moments after Super Shell with an extra mileage ingredient called Platformate delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent.

That's a typical result from a series of mileage tests Shell engineers recently ran on the outskirts of San Francisco.

The tests compared two gasolines. One was a gasoline Shell scientists purposely blended without Platformate. The other was Super Shell—the same gasoline as before but with Platformate added.

Shell engineers used a 1962 convertible for the tests. You may be driving a similar car right now.

In test after test, Super Shell with Platformate consistently took the car about 4 percent farther than the gasoline blended without Platformate.

NOTE: For more details on these tests, see caption under picture. And for technical data, write to the Shell Oil Company, 50 West 50 Street, New York 20, N. Y.

Platformate gets its name from the platinum re-forming process used to make it.

Pressures up to 600 pounds per square inch and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear petroleum apart. A precious platinum catalyst then helps re-form the petroleum into super-energy components.

RESULT: Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Your engine can convert extra energy into extra mileage.

Super Shell has 9 ingredients for top performance

Extra mileage is just one part of the top performance story. Super Shell's other ingredients complete the picture. Here's what they are and what they do.

TCP* for power, mileage, longer plug life.

Pentane mix—for fast "warm-up."

Butane—for quick starts.

Anti-knock mix—to resist all kinds of knock.

Alkylate—to help control "high-speed knock."

"Cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.

Anti-icer—added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.

Gum preventive—to help keep carburetors clean inside.

Super Shell—the gasoline with 9 ingredients for top performance

HOW TO SCORE A 160,000 MILE BULLSEYE — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. left nothing to chance on his history-making space flight. He was watching as his SIGMA 7 space capsule, the candy-striped retro-rocket package strapped to the heat shield, was hoisted (1) to the top of the gantry at Cape Canaveral. He checked progress as technicians gingerly lowered (2) the capsule into position atop the Atlas booster, closely observing his all-important "brakes." Enclosed in the candy-striped dome, the "brakes" consist of three small bucket-size solid fuel Thiokol retro-rocket engines each 12 inches in diameter and 15.5 inches long. Their performance brought to a successful climax Schirra's six-orbit flight which had started at 8:15 AM(EDT) Oct. 3 with a spectacular blastoff (3) from the launch site. At 5:07 PM(EDT) the retros fired in perfect sequence, burning for about 11 seconds. Together they generated sufficient reverse thrust to slow the capsule velocity by about 500 feet per second, thus easing SIGMA 7 out of its orbital path. Owing to the performance of the pilot, capsule, "brakes" and the large supporting team, Walter Schirra splashed safely into the Pacific 21 minutes later, having scored an almost-perfect bullseye after a flight covering 160,000 miles. Schirra climbed (4) out of his capsule at 6:15 PM(EDT) aboard the carrier Kearsarge to the cheers of the Navy crew.

OLE MISS HEAD RAPS INTERFERENCE

TUPELO, Miss. — Ole Miss Chancellor J. D. Williams lashed out recently at what he called political interference at the University in connection with the Meredith case.

"Every political government by name has interfered with the university," the educator told an Ole Miss alumni group.

It was Williams' first public speech since violence rocked the university campus Sept. 30, after Negro James H. Meredith arrived to enroll.

"The first political interference was from the Circuit Court of Appeals which overruled the district court's decision that university officials had the right to deny Meredith's application," Williams said.

He said Ole Miss had no rule or policy denying admission to any qualified person but that no qualified Negro had ever applied.

The next political interference he said, came when the university's board, "attempting to protect university officials, removed the authority to deny or admit Meredith from the hands of school leaders."

This action, Williams said, got Ole Miss in accreditation trouble with the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The problem facing the school now is "not black or white but whether the university can now maintain its accreditation."

Williams said. "The university wanted only two things at the outset," he said. "To keep Ole Miss open and to avoid violence."

a world-famous screen personality. Marcello Mastroianni, of "La Dolce Vita" fame co-stars in the high-powered emotional drama, which reflects Bardot's own fabulous career. It was filmed in color on locations in Switzerland, Italy and France. Starts Saturday, SAND THEATRE, GULFPORT.

Demonstrating new '63 Chevrolet truck features the hard way!

When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this was!

Conventional light-duty units have coil-spring independent front suspension — easier on truck, load and driver.

New engines, suspensions, frames and narrower front ends show their stuff on Mexico's tough Baja Run!

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (hah/hah) Peninsula? This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

Mississippians will be the most important. In the past, they have faced the public when they vote on a constitutional amendment. If passed, would the State Board of Education which the public selected for more than one year, and substitute the one-member appointment. The constitution set up a three-member Board of Education, consisting of the Governor, the Secretary of Education, and the State Superintendent of Education. The proposition would amend the constitution to provide for a three-member appointment by the Attorney General and the Secretary of Education. After the personnel is set up, all numerous would be majority, thus subjecting the State Board of Education to the potential of the State Board of Education.

As Superintendent of Education, I feel that I am in a position to advise both pro and con. I am first going to make the arguments of the proponents and then those of the opponents. Here are the points advanced by the proponents. It would give a lay support for the Board of Education and the State Board of Education. It would place them on a solid basis.
The lay board members are more interested in the activities of the Board of Education. The responsibility of the Board is too great for one person.
